COLUMBIA LETTER.

Special to The Lantern.

Columbia, Feb. 4.—After a recess from Friday last, the General Assembly put in two hard days' work this week, and have made considerable progress with the matters before them, but there are numerous important bills still to be considered. For instance, the Senate has not yet acted upon any of the following: The Lien law, the Labor Contract law, the rate bill, or prohibition, except to reject the Talbert bill. On the Labor Contract bill there is likely to be a serious difference between the Senate and the House. The bill prepared and introduced by the Judiciary Committee of the House went through that body without the least trouble, as it had been thoroughly discussed in committee and conference, but the Judiciary Committee of the Senate has prepared and introduced an entirely different bill, and has reported unfavorably the House bill. The Senate bill passed its first reading last night. The Senate bill refers to farm labor contracts alone, while under the House bill the law would apply to all contracts of labor, whether involved. Lawyers in the Senate declared the House bill would not stand the test of the courts. When the Senate bill goes to the House for consideration, it is likely to provoke discussion.

The Senate has debated the liquor question constantly during the week, but on this subject are on the calendar as special orders, but the only one which has been voted on is the bill of Senator Talbert, introduced on Tuesday. The bill was tabled—4 to 13. The bill is quite lengthy and has a drug store clause which many did not like who will vote for some other bill to take the place of. The proposition to refer the whole question to the people seems to be gaining in favor.

On the calendar of the House are several special orders which will very likely be disposed of during the next few days. Among these are the bills providing for compulsory education, the several bills relating to insurance matters of which there are about ten, and two providing for a system of rural police.

The bill to provide a new dormitory at Winthrop college went through the House with an objection—only a warning vote from Mr. Ault against extra expense. The bill carries an appropriation of $48,000, half of which was to be paid this year and half next, and an additional $12,000 to be obtained from the Treasury board.

The bill by Mr. Nash to establish the office of State health officer, after some discussion and some objection on the ground of economy, passed the House. Among other duties, the bill imposes upon the health officer those now performed by the secretary of the State board of health, and provides a salary of $3,000 a year, the appointment being made by the State board of health. The appointee must be a physician.

After having passed a bill by Mr. Rucker to require a license of all secret societies in order to stamp out negro secret organizations, the House on Wednesday reversed its action and on motion of Mr. Nichols, recommitted the bill, by a vote of 34 to 51, which kills the measure. The bill had formerly passed by a vote of 56 to 48.

The bill creating the Eleventh judicial circuit also went through the House without a fight, after a brief presentation by Mr. Tompkins of Richmond in regard to the contested state of the docket in this circuit. The bill forms a new circuit of Lexington, Sta. and Edgefield, taking Edgefield and Lexington out of the present Fifth circuit and adding out of the present Eighth. The Fifth circuit, under the bill, will be composed of only Hildred and Kershaw. A new judge for the Eleventh circuit will be elected by this General Assembly. If the bill passes the Senate, and he will appoint a stenographer, but Solicitor Timmerman will become solicitor of the Eleventh. A Solicitor of the Fifth will be appointed by the Governor. There are, of course, already applicants for these positions.

Mr. McLester's bill to punish unscrupulous at the money lenders operating in such cities as Charleston and Columbia, passed the House. It makes it a misdemeanor to charge over twenty per cent.

The Senate has passed the bill applying to intra-State commerce the Federal law now applied to interstate State commerce, limiting the hours of railroad employees to 10 hours out of the 24.

The General Assembly has accepted an invitation to visit Charleston on Saturday, at which time members will be guests of the Citadel academy. The citizens of Charleston and the Commercial club. The trip will be made on a special train over the Atlantic Coast Line, leaving here at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and returning Sunday night.

Massachusetts has a man who has lived under every President of the United States and he proudly boasts that he has never yet voted for a President but has the choice. He has voted for every man and vote the Democratic ticket on the counterpane in 1856, and has since then.

THE CITY FATHERS.

Street Overseer Relieved Of His Duties—Tuesday Night's Meeting.

The city council met Tuesday evening, the following members being present: Mayor Caldwell, and Aldermen Walker, Murr, Heyman, McFadden, Davidson and Peay.

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved. The report of the chief of police showed that fines amounting to $161.50 had been collected during the month of January. The mayor reported that he had sent an unusually large number to the chain gang during the month just closed. The police have been instructed to use their best efforts to break up gambling, and they have succeeded during the month in breaking up several games.

The first and most important matter demanding the attention of the council was the case of Mr. M. J. Wallace, street overseer. Mr. Wallace while in an intoxicated condition Monday afternoon hauled his pistol rather recklessly, seriously wounding a fine male belonging to Mr. Obadiah Roberts and firing in rather dangerous proximity to Messrs. Roberts and D. E. Colvin, who were engaged in adjusting the tongue chains on a new wagon that Mr. Roberts had recently purchased. Mr. Wallace was allowed to come before council and state his case. He pleaded guilty to the charge as stated, expressing his sorrow for the act and promising to turn over a new leaf, whether he was given a new opportunity by council or not.

After due deliberation council decided to relieve Mr. Wallace of his duties, and the selection of a new street overseer for the city.

Council decided that the first thing to be managed more successfully by employing two drivers, one to drive night, and the other to have charge during the day. The salary was fixed at $20 each, and the matter of selecting the men was left in the hands of Mr. Heyman, chairman of the fire committee.

Mr. Walker referred to complaints that have recently come to his ears in reference to certain vicious dogs that infest certain streets and attack horses and pedestrians. After some discussion it was decided to draw up an ordinance to be put on at the next meeting. Owners and fanciers of canines that come under this head will take notice accordingly.

Mr. McFadden, chairman of the finance committee, offered a resolution to this effect:

That the legislative delegation of the county be instructed to take what steps are necessary, if any legislative action is necessary, looking to the issuance of $26,000 of bonds for improvement bonds by the city of Chester, said bonds to bear 4 1/2 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and to run for 15 years, or to run for 40 years with privilege of prior redemption in 20 years. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Walker brought up the question of constructing the proposed sewer through Stricker's farm on the north end of the city, and whether the city should own or substitute, was instructed to draw up an ordinance for the next meeting, compelling owners of property and land to be within a certain area to connect with the city sewerage.

Mr. Walker wanted to know how the clerk, and treasurer, was progressing with the collection of water and light rents. Mr. McLarnon reported that fair progress was being made, but that a few accounts are still outstanding. On motion of Mr. Walker a rule was adopted whereby parties who have not paid their water and light bills by the tenth of the month are deprived of water and light until all dues are adjusted. If accounts are not paid promptly they will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. This is already the law of the city, but has not been enforced lately. Hereafter the council wishes it understood that it will be rigidly enforced.

Mayor Caldwell stated that he had a conference Monday afternoon with Messrs. W. Gill Wylie and W. S. Lee, Jr., of the Southern Power Co., and that these gentlemen spoke very encouragingly about running a line through this section in about six or eight months. Mr. Lee stated that he will send a man here in a few days to look over the situation and ascertain what the prospects are for selling power here.

The report of Mr. J. R. Terry, the new superintendent of the electric light department, shows that there has been busy since taking up his new duties last month.

The report of Mr. W. E. Sledge, engineer at the power house, shows the following reference to the electric light service last month: To the Hon. Mayor and Board of Aldermen—By your engineer:

beg leave to report to you the causes of the stops I had to make Saturday night.

We had one of our unusually heavy loads, and it was impossible for me to keep up steam. The boiler pressure is one hundred and ten pounds. With this pressure the engine carries its load fairly well, but when I tried to let in water, the pressure was reduced to one hundred pounds; then the engine was unable to do the work.

At 6:35 I had to take off the lights; at 7:45 I got on again; at 7:45 they were on again; off at 8:40, and on by 8:50.

By this time the load was lighter and everything ran smoothly. Now, you need not expect any better service until there is something done to help your steam plant. If you think this is any fault of mine, I am ready to turn it over to some one else. I give my very best services at all times to the town, and when these stops occur no one is more worried than I.

I beg leave to respectfully.

Yours very respectfully,

W. E. Sledge.

Council adjourned.

Mr. Banks—A bill to establish Calhoun county.

Mr. Leggett—A bill to make it a misdemeanor to draw or utter a check without funds to meet it. State.

Why get up in the morning feeling blue? Why others and worry? You will find this the answer. Buy one. Better take Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. Tea or Tablets. J. J. Strinfield.

Death of Mrs. Jane E. Allison.

Mrs. Jane E. Allison, wife of Mr. W. W. Allison, the mother of Mr. A. Brown Ferguson, of Lancaster, died last Monday morning at her son's old home near Catawba Junction, of pneumonia. She was 70 years of age just a few days ago. Her maiden name was Culp, and she was twice married. Her first husband was the late James H. Ferguson. She is survived by her second husband and the following sons and daughters, all by the first marriage: Mr. A. B. Ferguson, of this place; Mrs. T. K. Jordan, of Fort Lawn; Mrs. S. D. Thomas, of Edgecombe; Mrs. H. A. Caldwell, of near Rock Hill; and Messrs. James and George Ferguson, of the vicinity of Catawba Junction.

Mrs. Allison was a lady of high type and Christian character, amiable and kind-hearted.—Lancaster News.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hicklin

herby express their grateful appreciation of constant and thoughtful kindness and assurances of tender sympathy in their recent bereavement, from many friends in Chester and at Bascomville and vicinity.

To Subscribers.

A few days ago we called attention to the fact that many subscriptions were expiring, and asked that subscribers renew with us.

As the publisher's labor of help and unable to do all the work, we have decided to publish a list of names of those who have not renewed, and we would be specially appreciated if our friends would send us the names of those who have not renewed.

Quite a number have complied with our request, but there are others who can still do the favor asked. Remember the price is at the rate of $2.00 per year, advance you may owe, or $1.75 for this year in advance.

OPERA HOUSE.

The Mystic opens tonight in the celebrated "PASSION PLAY."

The Mystic Theatre moves into the Opera House tonight for its initial performance. Mr. Mowley, the accompanist and pianist, has been secured for the work.

Every man woman and child in Chester should see this performance as it is a change of a life time. No advance to prove the fact.
